Anushastra Procedures

Frequency of training and skill development

Continuous training is essential for all medical procedures. It ensures to reduce errors and mistakes and thus, helps in maintaining the quality care for the patients.

The therapists are advised to get the skills updated regularly. Also reorientation training programmes are arranged for them.

This institute insists on timely training of the para clinical staff also.

The schedule of the training is as follows.

1. Reorientation training of therapists- Every six months
2. Training of the paraclinical staff- Every six months .

The attendance of the training sessions is well maintained.

Training methodology

This training includes the following -

- A] Communication and etiquettes for patient care.
- B] Theory sessions for basics of Anushalyakarma [PPTs]
- C] Training regarding SOPs of anushalyakarma
- D] Hands on training to the staff.
